Julius Steger in "The Blindness of
for Today and Saturday.

The statement follows: for Today and Saturday.

The Blindness of Love," the five "The Blindness of Love," the five part Metro production is the feature at the Breed theatre for today and Saturday, featuring the distinguished dramatic actor Julius Steger, supported by Grace Valentine and George Leguere in a mixture of romance and George In George In a mixture of romance and George In G Guere in a mixture of romance and sacrifice presented in a finished style. The story is very interesting and full grains in net earnings in its history. The story is very interesting and full of charm and feeling. Mr. Steger appears in the role of a thrifty German, and an expert piano maker, who through his industry has built up a small factory and acquired considerable money. His whole life and further ambitions are centered on mission, whom has entered a big on the story is son whom has entered a big on the story is the further fact is son whom has entered a big on the footing debt and spent $4,352,153.24 son, whom has entered a big uni-life and falls under the influence of a suave society leech, who invelgles him into drinking, gambling and a life of profigacy. The son is induced to draw union of the family.

Completing the bill for today and Saturday the Breed will also present Mr. and Sirv Sidney Drew in a very funny comedy entitled "One on Henry."

14 THE CALL TO ARMS IN OUR STREET

There's a woman sobs her heart out,
With her head against the door,
For the man that's called to leave her,
—God have pity on the poor!
But it's beat, drums, beat,
While the lads march down the street,
And it's blow, trumpets, blow,
ixeep your tears until they go,

here's a crowd of little children neres a crowd of little children hat march along and shout, or it's fine to play at soldiers
ow their fathers are called out.
So it's beat, drums, beat;
But who'll find them food to eat?
And it's blow, trumpets, blow,
Ah! the children little know.

here's a mother who stands watching or the last look of her son, worn poor widow woman, and he her only one. But it's beat, drums, beat,

There's a young girl who stands laughing,
For she thinks a war is grand,
And it's fine to see the lads pass,
And it's fine to hear the band.
So it's heat, drums, heat,
To the fall of many feet;
And it's blow, trumpets, blow,
God go with you where you go
To the war.

More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny and the hearty, warm approval of a friend.

For it gives to life a savor, and it makes you stronger, braver.

And it gives you heart and spirit to the end;

If he earns your praise—bestow it: If you like him, let him know it, Let the words of true encouragement be said;

Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead!
